A BIG STOCK.

Some of the Features of the Great Business Done by Armstrong & Co.

The present stock of furniture of H. H. the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. Armstrong & Co. is excellent in variety, design, pattern, quality and value, and it is also a great credit to New Haven business enterprise. Four carloads of chamber suits arrived last week, increasing the firm's big stock. This will be one of the firm's biggest special sales, and special attention is called to it. Many people, moreover, are not aware that this firm have a full line of baby carriages, robes, clocks, lamps, etc., also bedding of all kinds, mattresses, beds and a large stock of fine pillows.

They also make a choice display of carpets and rugs in a multitude of designs.

HOTEL MAJESTIC.

Its Great Popularity and Wonderful Success—Much Appreciated by Travelers—In Great Demand for Social Events, Weddings, Banquets and Special Dinners—Its Musical Dinners Every Thursday Evening is a Charming Feature.

"It's the pride of Connecticut," said a traveler to a reporter. "Why do you know that this new and magnificent hotel has become famous with meteoric rapidity. It's a wonderful success. Why, the house has been full to overflowing nearly every day since September 1. It's the largest and finest hotel in the state and has a great advantage in its location, being just out of the daily and nightly bustle, thus giving restful quiet. It is at the Majestic where we find all the luxuries and comforts, hence the house receives the patronage of those who expect and appreciate being well treated. I have made four visits to the house and have found the finest rooms for the price I ever occupied. It contains a large number of sitting and bed rooms, en suite and single, and I observe they have about fifteen of the best families of New Haven permanently located in the house. It is splendidly planned for families, as all suites have lavatories and baths and the rates are very reasonable for what is offered. In fact I find that every service for the convenience, comfort and safety of the guests has been placed in the hotel without regard to expense and the outcome is unsurpassed between New York and Boston. It is just what we needed and I am one among many others who are delighted with the hotel and are doing all we can on the road to send travelers to patronize and encourage the house. The service is certainly the most complete I have met with. The house is open day and night and a night watchman makes a tour of the house every half hour and reports to the clerk in the office from each floor, so that people can live in the house with a feeling of perfect safety."

A MERITED TRIBUTE.

To a Worthy and Prominent Citizen.
"Music Trade," the largest and most influential paper published in the interest of the piano and organ manufacturers in this country, in its current issue, contains a large and admirable portrait of Mr. Bernard Shoninger, the highly respected piano manufacturer of this city. Under the caption of "The Head of a Venerable House," the following appears:

"At the head of a great and still rapidly growing business, a man who has made a success of his life work, winning universal respect for his progressiveness, energy, shrewdness and business methods, is the original of the above, Mr. Bernard Shoninger, founder and head of the great piano manufacturing firm bearing his name. Like many another prominent man of this progressive age, Mr. Shoninger is the 'architect' of his own fortune." He came to America from Bavaria, where he was born, with very little money, but a large stock of energy and business shrewdness. He made his way successfully, and seeing opportunities in the music trade, he founded the B. Shoninger Organ Company. From comparatively small beginnings it grew to great proportions. Then came the manufacture of pianos, and in this line the success of his house was a steadily increasing one. The B. Shoninger company's factory at New Haven, Conn., is now known as one of the largest piano producing plants in the United States. The Shoninger pianos have a high reputation as instruments of sterling musical qualities. Mr. Bernard Shoninger has made his way to his present high commercial and social position by his unswerving purpose, unflinching industry, far-sightedness, and the ability to overcome the difficulties and grasp the opportunities that presented themselves. He is one of the leading and wealthiest citizens of his adopted city, New Haven, where his character, his modesty and his public spiritedness are held in the highest esteem."

Those who know this veritable nestor of the piano trade will cordially endorse all that is written above.

MALLEY-NEELY

New Haven, Monday, Oct. 14, 1895.

While You Slept

the Artist snap-shotted this bright old spot where business buzzes six days a week, because Underwear and other things there are sold at high-tide quality and low-tide price.

The goodness of goods is mightier than the poorness of prices.

Men's Underwear

The season for heavy goods is here and the goods are here. Goods that go with a rush because they're not held down by high prices. "What's in a name?" A good deal in these names:

"Norfolk and New Brunswick," "Medicott," "Glastonbury," "Mattientz."

The "Mattientz" is known as "health underwear," highly prized by frail men and those who take cold easily through sudden perspiration.

Underwear selling will receive a fresh impetus Monday when we push to the front

"Health" Underwear, wool fleeced, cotton back. Pearl buttons. Shirts with silk bound necks and fronts. Drawers taped and gusseted. Price 50c a garment. Just 36 cents under your expectations.

Brand new "Glastonbury" silver gray Underwear. All wool. Pearl buttons. Fine silk binding round neck and front. Drawers taped, gusseted and silk finished. Price $1.25. Just 50 cents below your guess.

Our all wool Shirts and Drawers. Camel's hair and natural. Shirts single and double breasted. These excel anything we ever sold at $1.00 a garment. Indeed, a good garment at a cheap price.

Better yet. Bought all a maker had of a lot of natural wool Shirts and Drawers made to retail at 75c a garment. Yours at 50c a garment. Don't tarry.

Our regular lines of Underwear run from sizes 34 to 50 in Shirts. Drawers, 30 to 48. Large sizes for large men. Short sizes for short men and so on, sized like the man.

Before you leave the counter take a look at scores of other wearables that we haven't mentioned.

Men's Furnishings.

Women's Underwear fulfills all necessary requirements as to variety, weight, weave, color, etc. Your brisk buying already confirms that statement. Sometimes an unexpected demand for a special kind may force a little "wait" but we make the hours of delay as short as possible.

For women. The Upsilanti Union Suits in sanitary natural wool, at $3.75.

Upsilanti black all-wool Equestrian Tights, at $2.00. Good quality black Tights, at $1.50.
